FLOPPING AGAIN?

Apparently it is useless to try to stir up the leader of the Proletarian Opposition to hold the Sifton Government responsible for the failure of the Prussian government to get a loan at four per cent.

Perhaps there has come to Mr. Michener some belated recollection of the platform on which he was elected. If so, we may expect to see him give the Sifton Government a more or less independent support during the remainder of the session. His associates had better keep an eye on the member for Red Deer.

UNANIMOUS ON ONE POINT

The points of agreement between the Borden Government and their opponents are not numerous.

But, sharply as the Government and the Opposition are separated on questions pertaining to naval defence, trade, tariff, and rights of the people to be represented in Parliament, and the right of Parliament to discuss public affairs, it is refreshing to find the Ministers and their opponents unanimous in the conviction that the Government would be beaten "six ways for Sunday" if it dared to dissolve Parliament and call an election.

ANOTHER DEADLY PARALLEL

For the first time in the one-year term of the Canadian Parliament has laid a formal charge at the door of a fellow-member—namely, Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State—and has asked for an opportunity of proving his charge.

An accused Minister or member of Parliament is entitled to be considered innocent until proven guilty—provided the accused is not denied an opportunity of proving him guilty.

The Government have decided that Mr. Gauthier shall not have an opportunity of proving his charge that Hon. Louis Coderre presuaded and rewarded impersonation at the polls.

In extension, the Minister of Justice advanced the plea that the case should go to the courts and not to Parliament. That is the same as saying that the case itself may as well be dropped. An "election case" cannot be tried while Parliament is in session; and trust the solicitors of Hon. Louis Coderre to see that the case did not come to trial in the brief interval between the close of one session and the opening of another—with the long court holidays interposed between the two interrupt and shorten that interval.

In refusing Mr. Gauthier an opportunity of proving his charge before the elections committee the Government in effect slammed the door in the face of the plaintiff and declared that the case cannot be tried in the only tribunal where it is practically possible to get it tried.

In refusing the plaintiff this opportunity the Government presumably acted on the knowledge or belief that if the opportunity were given Mr. Coderre would be proven guilty even before a committee composed in the majority of Government supporters.

In so doing Mr. Borden and his colleagues have elected to share the odium of a smothered charge rather than incur the political consequences of having to cut loose from a colleague whom they knew or believed could not convince a committee of political friends that he was innocent of the crime for which he has been indicted.

The last Canadian Government which marshalled its supporters to refuse a member of Parliament the opportunity of proving a formal charge laid against a Minister of the Crown was the Government which expelled its sinner on the political grounds in 1896.

If Premier Borden has scanned the pages of Canadian history for a precedent—he can find it nowhere else in the annals of British Parliamentary government—to justify his refusal to allow a formal charge against a Minister of the Crown to be put before the tribunal Parliament has established for such purposes, he is welcome to all the satisfaction he can get from the logical conclusion that the fate which overtook the makers of the precedent awaits himself and his colleagues when an outraged public sense of decency gets a chance to make the writ for a general election the warrant for their execution.

Remark on the Side

Mr. Smith, M.P., was probably in error when he told the British house of commons that the suffragette trouble can only be handled by a strong man. A strong woman at the head of the home department would put matters right in a jiffy.

"God bless the man who first invented sleep!" said Saneho Panani, a native of the Hawaiian Islands, who is a member of the Hawaiian delegation to the London conference. This is a good saying, for the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place. But, alas, the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place. But, alas, the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place.

President Wilson is said to be such a smart waker that, in trying to keep up with him his bodyguard is obliged to follow him. This is a good saying, for the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place. But, alas, the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place.

Although the next Legislature will have sixteen additional members, there will still be a large number of members who are not members of the Government. This is a good saying, for the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place. But, alas, the Hawaiian Islands are a very healthy place.

Having seen all that in this country, we can be excused for being unconvinced. We will wait until the Canadian built the C.P.R. and other ships, and then we will see if they were not shodder up to us from the heavens.

Victor Pres. of Bankers' Trust Co. is Arrested.
 Franklin C. Cook appears in Victoria Police Court on Charge of Theft.

Victoria, March 18—Arrested on a warrant charging theft, Franklin C. Cook, vice-president of the Bankers' Trust corporation, with office in this city, appeared in Victoria police court this morning, and was remanded to jail for $2,000, when he was found.

It is claimed that the stock in the corporation was sold at the price value plus a premium of $10, making the total selling price $132.

It is also alleged that the greater part of the stock was sold for $10 each, the balance being taken in promissory notes, which have since been discounted at various rates. Of the original $100,000 it is alleged $25,000 was shared with in connection to the selling agents, The Negotiators, Limited.

This commission is alleged to have been unfair.

Industrial Britain Behind Government

Three Coloured Coat in Durham Consistency Liberal Wins Reform and Unionist Candidates—Free Trade Unionist in Westminster.

London, March 19.—The objection to the House of Commons division of Durham, rendered vain through the death of the aged Liberal member, Robert Campbell, revived as follows: T. Wing, Liberal, 4,007; Mr. Richardson, Unionist, 4,007; Mr. House, Liberal, 4,185. Great interest attached to this contest because it was the first three-coloured fight in the history of the riding and further marked the lengthening of the distance between the Liberal and the Unionist of the government forces.

Cameroon, who was 53 at his death, as a well known leader in the past life of Sunderland, and was elected for this division in 1892 by a majority of 541.

Notwithstanding an uncompromising support of the South African war, both in and out of the house, his majority in the 1892 election of 1900 increased to 1,000. In 1906 it was 2,750, in 1910 (January) it reached 4,911, and at the last general election Mr. Campbell was unopposed.

The riding is largely industrial and has witnessed big increases in population recently, there being 17,000 voters on the list, and of these 15,902 voted at the 1910 election, or about a total vote of 14,775 at the last contested election.

LETTER WAS GARBLED.
 Editor Bulletin:
 Sir:—On the 6th inst. you kindly published my letter to the Sentinel. On the same day that paper published a letter over my name for which I am responsible. It is a complete copy of my letter, but omitting every part added to prove my case. As found in the Sentinel it is a libel both to my contention and to my intelligence, and I would never have consented to its publication in that form. I admit an editor's right to suppress any communication, but I question his right to omit the kernel and publish the shell.

I have felt it an unpleasant duty to expose the falsity of the Sentinel's claim to political independence. It is even painful to wound the feelings of my brethren by doing so in papers other than our official organ, but I would be true to truth, I am compelled to do by being denied the privilege of giving the facts through the columns. Yours sincerely, W. J. CONNOLLY.

SUFFRAGE MOVEMENT ENDORSED BY BISHOP

G.N.E. TO START AN ACTIVE CAMPAIGN

Toronto, March 18.—Governor Scott, assistant general passenger agent of the C.N.R., in reference to the statement that practically 125,000 men would be opened up for home-studying by the C.N.R. this year, stated the C.N.R. are to go in for a much more extensive immigration campaign than they have yet attempted, and are now looking for two steamships, the Royal George and the Royal Edward, to capacity, but in addition are making arrangements with other lines to aid them in bringing British settlers to take up C.N.R. homesteads in Western Canada.

The number brought to Canada by the C.N.R. last year averaged two thousand a month, or approximately twenty-five thousand British immigrants during the year, but with the additional transportation facilities that they have arranged for this year, a greatly increased number will be brought to Canada this season.

LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN OVER EASTER

reading of the bill to amend the Election Act by providing for a minimum period of thirty days between the dissolution of the house and the issue of writs for an election. He said the bill was intended to give the members of the legislature to allow the issues of the election to be fully discussed in the country.

Premier Stinson said that he very much regretted that he could not agree with the House of the opposition.

"I am a strong supporter of the British constitution," added Mr. Stinson, "and I believe in the limitation of the power of the King in the matter of dissolving the legislature. I would regret even to be a party to trying to do it. I don't know, but I believe in the power to do it, but I would seriously object to trying to infringe upon the prerogative of the King as provided by the British constitution, and I would not ask the members to support any such breach in the constitution."

World Men 30 Days.—According to the second reading of the bill, the House of Commons would be in session for a period of thirty days after the dissolution of the house and the issue of writs for an election. The bill would also provide for a period of thirty days after the dissolution of the house and the issue of writs for an election. The bill would also provide for a period of thirty days after the dissolution of the house and the issue of writs for an election.

Bill Thrown Out.—The Premier, it is the unwritten convention in the House of Commons, to argue on both sides of an un-constitutionality, though it might be very difficult if the constitution was in writing.

A Division Taken.—On the second reading of the bill which was defeated by 22 yeas to 3 nays. Mr. Stinson voted with the opposition.

Chap School Books.—The House went into committee on the whole clause on the bill. The consideration of the estimates of the education department was named.

Dr. Stewart, Leithbridge, estimated the item of $14,000 for school teachers, and stated that in his opinion the school books cost 20 to 30 per cent, too much compared with the price of school books in Ontario.

Mr. J. H. Boyle said one of the clearest was that the books were turned out by Eaton & Co. who had an advertisement in every book. It was not the intention of the Province of Alberta to give Timothy Eaton and his firm the right of advertising. Further, the T. Eaton company was a very much inferior book to the Alberta book. The books could not very well be supplied cheaply to the students, because they were few.

Other reasons why Ontario books were cheaper were given by Hon. Duncan Marshall who said that the T. Eaton company had a monopoly of the copyright to the matter. The government had all the copyrights to the books and had the type set and electrolytes made and all that T. Eaton had to do was to press work and the binding. To use an old book the imprint of T. Eaton & Co. was the largest lettering in addition to that the firm sold the books in their store and the fact that they could sell other goods was a cheap price for the books.

School For Foreigners.—The English school for foreigners was discussed in connection with the item of $12,000 for the school.

Mr. Boyle asked if the money was for the purpose of training foreign boys to do some of the work of the school. He said that some of the students in the school would not do any work in the school. He said that some of the students in the school would not do any work in the school.

LEGISLATURE TO ADJOURN OVER EASTER

The bill, C-91, 927, gave the average price obtained in the past had been $11.61 per acre. Roughly speaking, the value of unsold school lands was about $75,000,000, and they would have in the immediate future a large sum upon which they can draw the annual interest for the support in a proper and fitting manner of education in the province.

In conclusion, Mr. Mitchell referred to the question of the bonds of the province, stating that according to the information the bonds of the province of Alberta, maturing in 1936, 4 per cent bonds were quoted at 92 to 97. The Alberta bonds, maturing in 1922, 4 per cent were quoted at 92 to 97. There was a difference between these two of one point, by reason of the fact that the actual bonds had not yet been signed and were not regarded in as good shape for securities as they would be if they had been actually signed by the provincial treasurer. They would be signed later on, and no doubt these bonds would take the same stand as the 1922 bonds.

British Columbia had bonds maturing in 1917, 4 1/2 per cent, quoted at 100 to 102. That was better than the Alberta bonds, but they were 1 1/2 per cent bonds. New Brunswick bonds on the market today were 1924 and 1944 bonds at 4 per cent, quoted at 92 to 97. The London market at 96 to 98, the identical amount at which the Alberta bonds were quoted.

For Ontario bonds, 1917, at 4 per cent the quotation was 98 to 98. Quebec 1914 bonds, just four years less, were quoted at 98 to 100, but it might be noted that the reason for that quotation was because the interest period was drawing close, and they were always a shade higher when the interest date was approaching. The province of Saskatchewan 1943 bonds, 4 per cent, were quoted at 96, which was practically the same as Alberta.

In the face of these facts, why should they have any hesitation in going ahead at the present session of the Legislature and voting the money which the estimate which has been prepared by the government call for, particularly in view of the fact that the great bulk of the estimate was to make provision for much-needed expenditure?

Sore on Redistributing.

Dr. Stewart, Lethbridge, spoke on the subject just after the redistribution bill had been tabled, and he frequently referred during his speech to the redistribution, which he described as "the most outrageous example of political expediency that has ever been perpetrated in the province." For this language he was called to order by the speaker, who told him that he must speak to the estimates. Dr. Stewart, continuing, said he had no doubt that the sum of $125,000 put down in the estimates for expenditures under the election act had been expended in drawing up this bill, and so far as Lethbridge was concerned he did not think that there was a man in Lethbridge who would be so foolish to have any city up to run for the constituency under the present redistribution act.

The member for Lethbridge city proceeded to advocate the claims of that city for a large title office, and read resolutions from Southern Alberta board of trade in support of his case.

Tweede Criticism.

Mr. T. M. Tweede considered that the public accounts committee had been placed at a disadvantage, in that the public accounts of the province had not been printed in time to enable the Legislature to give them proper consideration. He also complained that the accounts did not show sufficient detail. He admitted that the accounts relating to road expenditure in Alberta were fully detailed, but wanted the sections of road on which the expenditure was made classified and individualized. In reference to other accounts he wanted more detailed particulars.

Strong on Trade.

The Hon. Mr. Mitchell pointed out the absurdity of requiring detailed particulars of a store bill for $15 in the public accounts.

Dwelling at some length on the telephone system, Mr. Tweede argued that that department was not a paying one, and that the expenditure on the telephone service during the past three years was greater than the receipts. Each dollar of business done by the department cost, according to his calculations, a dollar and some cents to procure.

The next subject to meet with Mr. Tweede's criticism was the railroad commission. Referring to the fact that the L.R.R. bill of steel had been laid under the guarantee policy, he harked back to his old distinction between railroads completely constructed and railroads that have been taken over by the operating departments, and have been approved by the railway commission. He drew comparisons. The C.P.R. had built over 100 miles since the guarantee policy came into effect.

The Hon. Mr. Stewart and Mr. Puffer pointed out, however, that the large majority of this distance had been built before 1912.

Mr. Tweede then said that the greater part of the C.P.R. line had been built over and put into operation since 1901; not that it had been constructed since that year.

The house then went into committee to consider the estimates.

Archbishop Pentecost Head.

Winnipeg, March 19.—Word was received in the city today that Archbishop Pentecost for thirty years pastor of Christ church, Winnipeg, but who since 1912 has been a resident of Vancouver, had died today in Southern California after a lingering illness. He was born in 1846 at Clifton, N.B., and came here from Moncton in 1882. Since 1887 he has been archbishop of Columbia and superintendent of missions for the diocese of New Westminster.

ANNOUNCE THE GOVERNMENT ATTITUDE

of actual discussion on it, nine-tenths of which had been occupied by the opposition.

The perverse attitude of the opposition as demonstrated by the fact that the bill has occupied all of the available time of parliament for more than three months. The desire to have the bill passed in parliament had been expressed by the opposition since the bill was introduced.

It has been claimed that on Monday, March 2, when the prime minister declined to adjourn, unless some progress were made, clause two had been under discussion for only three hours. This is a complete misstatement. That particular clause embodied the principle of the bill and nothing more. It had been under discussion ever since the 11th of December last, and its adoption had been mentioned and decided by the vote upon the second reading of the bill.

Says It Was Obstructive.

"Further lengthy discussion of that clause was manifestly obstructive as the opposition tactics during the past two weeks have established beyond any possible question."

"There can be no doubt that the opposition had been engaged in a deliberate and determined attempt to obstruct the bill and to prevent the passage of its provisions for effective aid to the common defense of the empire. That attempt is evinced not only by the length of the discussion but by the defiant and insulting attitude of the opposition members that obstruction would have been permitted, that the majority of house were helpless and that the minority were determined to prevent parliament from exercising its usual normal function."

"The present rules of the house being antiquated and out of date rendered themselves to the tactics which have been adopted by the opposition during the past two weeks."

Thurston Chokes Rules.

"Under these conditions if the opposition should persist in its determination to prevent the house from reaching a vote on the bill it will be the clear course of the government to press for amendments to the rules which will secure all reasonable and necessary freedom of debate, will prevent persistent obstruction, and will permit to provide for the public necessity and to proceed with the business of the country."

"Notice of such amendments permitting debate to be brought to a conclusion after full but reasonable discussion will be placed upon the order paper next week. It is not the jealous or intention of the government to press these amendments through the house at present if the opposition will give any assurance of evidence of their willingness to accept the vote upon the bill to be taken within a reasonable time. If, however, they persist in their defiant obstruction, the rules must be amended that the proceedings of the house will not be reduced to a farce, and that the work of parliament and the business of the country can be carried on and brought to a conclusion within a reasonable time and under reasonable conditions."

EXPLOSION KILLS FIVE IN MEDICINE HAT

was enough to extinguish the fire, for it did not make its appearance again. This enabled the rescuers to get to work and rescue the wounded. These were found both inside and outside of the building.

Might Have Been Far Worse.

Had the spectators had their way there is no doubt but what the dead and injured would have reached an awful total.

Police Sergeant Johnson on his arrival found spectators swarming all over the front of the building and a number inside. There he ordered out and did his best to keep them back.

Benham was one of the spectators who was killed. He was lying on his face fairly buried in the ground. The whole right side of his head was crushed in and his face terribly lacerated. Death was instantaneous. In digging Benham out rescuers uncovered the body of another man. This man's head was also crushed. He was later identified as Jonathan Brier, whose duty it is to attend all fires and turn off the gas.

The injured were found where they were in close proximity to the building. The majority of them were in the front, but many were found at the side of the building.

The work of rescuing the wounded was a slight that will live in the memories of the rescuers.

The most seriously injured was the little Green boy. He was buried under piles of debris, and when dug out he was found to be terribly wounded. He was rushed to the hospital, but expired on the way.

The bodies of the dead are all in the morgue and inquests will likely be held.

The Dead.

The dead are: Reinald Rimmer, aged 21, fireman, buried in the ruins; body recovered at 11 p.m., six hours after the accident.

William Green, aged about 12, died on way to the hospital. Head crushed. Charles Benham, about 21, head crushed. He came here a few days ago from Boston.

William Stewart, fireman and a well known painter, head crushed.

Jonathan Brier, city employee, head crushed.

The injured are:

James Craig, aged 30, back hurt and leg broken.

William Bushman, city treasurer's office, aged 25, and volunteer fireman; head and arm injured.

Joseph Revest, aged 34, leg badly lacerated.

James Copp, aged 23; compound fracture of the leg and suffering from the shock; condition critical.

William Bushman, captain of the fire department; bad scalp wound.

Wm. Long, aged 33; back and ankle injured.

D. Sanderson, driver for fire department, aged 39, back, shoulder and knee injured.

James Connor, aged 14; bad scalp wound.

Sant Schmidtke, aged 18; ankle and foot wounds.

There are many others who were more or less injured and who were discharged from the hospital after being treated. Others who were only slightly injured went to their homes.

Plant Will Be Rebuilt.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Winnipeg, March 29.—"Capital which owns the wrecked plant, which is at present in Winnipeg, states that the plant, though originally the Malcolm Tanker, was recently taken over by the Western Canada Cold Storage and Packing company. For a short time back it has not been in operation, the company being engaged in the installation of new machinery, and it had not been restarted when the fire broke out."

M. E. Nichols, a member of the directorate of the Winnipeg Temperance Morning for Medicine Hat. He states that the building was valued at $10,000, and the machinery $15,000, with some insurance; he was not sure how much. The plant will be rebuilt.

AROUND THE CORRIDORS

For the first time in five years Gordon Butler of Grounds has made a trip into the haunts of civilization and registered yesterday at the King Edward. Mr. Butler was accompanied by his wife and will spend a week or two on a special shopping tour. Mr. Butler is one of Grounds' oldest citizens, coming to that town when there were practically only a few buildings in the place. Like all north men he is enthusiastic of the country in and around Grounds, and can see nothing but the greatest future for this new west.

He also realises that in that city Mr. Butler is also interested in farming operations and this coming year will cultivate considerable acreage near to Grounds.

C. F. Pettie, general superintendent of the Canadian Bridge Company, who had office at Walkersburg, Ontario, who are constructing the high level bridge and the steel work on the new subway on Jasper, as well as a large number of bridges on the lines of the C.P.R. and C.N.R. (most yesterday) in the city, the guest of the Windsor Hotel. Speaking of the accident to the corner where the high level bridge, Mr. Pettie was of the opinion that the work would not be delayed for more than a week or two. During the interim the steel work will continue to be done on the new subway on Jasper avenue. The accident to the high level bridge is particularly unfortunate as with the bridge completed the steel for the new subway could be transported on cars across while as it now stands the heavy material will have to be moved by wagon. Mr. Pettie left yesterday for the East.

J. D. McCarthy, probably the biggest figure in Western railway building circles, arrived late last night from the East. Seen at the Alberta late evening, Mr. McCarthy was very friendly regarding railway construction. "It's too early yet to talk about the matter, wait till the snow is off the ground," was the sum total of his conversation last night. Mr. McCarthy will be in the city several days.

Alex. Galbraith, of Janesville, Iowa, is in the city registered at the Albert. Mr. Galbraith is one of the foremost judges in horseflesh on the Western continent, and is a prominent figure in the Western horse shows. He is accompanied by his brother, V. Galbraith.

Andy Mannie, according to a press dispatch, is under arrest at Los Angeles, California, on a charge of passing worthless cheques in connection with the case of the "Mannie" and his local man who came closely in touch with this man, when Mannie was here last June. It is alleged, touching the same game, that Mannie was a wonder on high finance.

"It is remarkable after all how gullible even the cleverest people are," said this gentleman last night, speaking of the matter in a local hotel. "Mannie was a clever man, and if he had devoted the brains he had to a legitimate enterprise he would certainly have been a wonder."

FIRE ON ALBERTA AVENUE.

A fire which involved the total loss of a large frame building at the corner of Outer Street and Alberta avenue broke out last night. The alarm was not given until the flames had gained complete control of the situation, and soon after the brigades from Nos. 2 and 3 made arrival on the scene, the building was a mass of smoke.

The water pressure was very poor, and for a time it could not reach the second story.

On the ground floor there was a general store carried on by Hag Bros., and also a butcher shop run by Mr. Hargre. The upper part of the building, where the fire is said to have started from, some unknown cause, was occupied by seven or eight rooms.

With the exception of a few things recovered from the general store, the building and the whole of the contents were totally destroyed.

PARISIAN PREFECT OF POLICE RESIGNS

After Twenty Years of service, Louis Lepine, Best Known Police Official in Paris, Resigns His Connection With Paris Force.

By Bulletin Leased Wire.

Paris, March 19.—Louis Lepine, the popular prefect of police, resigned office today after twenty years of service, interrupted only by an absence of two years when he served as the general of Algeria from 1887 to 1889. M. Lepine is 67 years of age. He served through the Franco-German war in 1870 as sergeant major in the fortress of Belfort, and after the close of that place he passed into a voluntary retirement, organized by Desmet, his superior.

When the war was ended, M. Lepine was called to the bar at Lyons, his birthplace, and in 1871 was appointed sub-prefect of La Palisse. From 1883 to 1891 he was chief secretary of the prefect of police in Paris and in 1892 he succeeded M. Loe as prefect of police.

M. Lepine was noted for his great activity during the revolution which followed the separation of church and state, when he was continually on duty to suppress disturbances and churches, which were occupied by militant congregations. He also attracted much attention by the aggressive manner in which he suppressed the "gangs of assassins" or "roving" which for a time terrorized Paris, and he took a prominent part in the capture of the motor bandits, whose organization was broken up last year. Virtually every monarch or head of state in Europe knew M. Lepine personally, for he was present at their arrivals and departures from the French capital, and he took sole responsibility for the safety of those men. He was always in the best of the fighting when the recent labor demonstrations were in progress, or when strikers took out of hand.

SPORT

Calgary Shermons Proved Easy For the Dominions

Loon's Topped Away From Southmen, Winning 7 to 3—Return Game Next Friday Afternoon—Game Was Played in Three Twenty Minute Periods.

For the third time this winter the Dominion defeated the Shermons of Calgary. The sport-champagne from the north was not at all strong, but the Loonish had a big margin and looked as though they would have won even had their opponents had their regular team. The score was 7 to 3, with the Loonish having the majority of the play, most of the way. The game was watched by a small crowd.

The game was played in three periods of twenty minutes each. The first one was won in the first period, Calgarie scored three goals, but the Loonish scored two. The second period, while each team scored three in the final period of the game.

Calgarie showed up well and was the hardest worker on the ice. He scored three of the seven goals and his work on the boards was of the highest quality. Matt and Stanley also did excellent work for the Loon, the back-checking of Matt being the best.

The Shermons were without McCarthy, their star forward, and Hagan, the left center. Secondly was the bright individual star for the visitors. Another game between these two teams has been arranged for Friday afternoon at three o'clock. There should be a big battle, crowd at the Cold Friday game. The Shermons will be strengthened for this game, as Hagan will be on the line-up.

The game opened with play raging around the Shermon net. Calgarie touched out several times, but failed to score. The Dominions had most of the play, but it was 15 minutes before they managed to score. Calgarie managed to get the puck out of the corner of the net and passed to Carman, who scored. There was no more scoring in this period. The teams changed ends and the Shermons commenced a vigorous attack. Their shooting was wild and they missed many good chances to score. Carman, who had been in the game, scored. The teams changed ends and the Shermons commenced a vigorous attack. Their shooting was wild and they missed many good chances to score.
